

GUIDING QUESTIONS

1. Has your country already formalized intentions for moving forward with GCM implementation?
2. If not, what process for this implementation is most fitting given your country's context, existing processes and structures and capacity?
3. What are the challenges and opportunities regarding budgeting for GCM implementation?
4. How will these challenges and opportunities shift during a moment of large-scale upheaval, such as during the COVID-19 pandemic?
5. From which actors is high-level political commitment necessary to budget properly for GCM implementation?
6. From what external entities is your government likely to receive funding for GCM implementation?
7. Can your government make use of diverse financing resources, such as remittances, social impact bonds or private sector funding? Note that remittances are private funds owned by migrants and so their use for GCM implementation should be incentivized through appropriate measures (for example, offers of bonds or other investment schemes), but not made mandatory (for example, by levying additional taxes on remittances).
8. If financing resources are available, which resources and how will you mobilize them?
