(a) Has the government cooperated with the various stakeholders in implementing the Global Compact (e.g. the development of migration-related policies, or the design and implementation of migration-related projects, or the encouragement of dialogue among the many stakeholders, and so on)? If the answer is Yes, it is requested to specify the participating stakeholders (such as recruitment agencies and migrant organizations...)?
At the global level, Algeria’s foreign policy is based on the conclusion of bilateral agreements and the creation of bilateral border commissions for managing migration issues, particularly with regard to the displacement of persons, their residences, their reintegration, the confirmation of identity and the application of legal procedures.

Algeria was the first through its various institutions to raise awareness and support partners at the regional level, particularly neighboring countries, to unite efforts and coordination in the fight against illegal migration and transnational border crimes in all its forms.

And with the International Organization for Migration, Algeria has developed a set of good practices, notably to support the voluntary repatriation program of illegal migrants by air to their countries of origin, and to facilitate the organization of field visits.

Algeria is also seeking in-depth solutions to the phenomenon of illegal migration in full respect of human rights while introducing legal procedures, in accordance with international laws, as well as maintaining stability, security and border protection. Our country is also taking action through a comprehensive approach aimed at addressing the root causes of this phenomenon (conflicts, crises, poverty, etc.).

(b) Has the government integrated the implementation of the global pact into the implementation of the sustainable development operation goals and other related operations? If so, how?

Algeria is working to achieve the sustainable development goals that are consistent with the Global Compact objectives, in particular those relating to the elimination of forms of under-development, poverty, negative factors and structural issues that drive people to leave their countries of origin.

This work focuses on helping countries of origin and transit countries for illegal migrants by setting up development programs and cooperating with several countries, especially in the Sahel region, for the sake of achieving structured and sustainable projects and investments aiming at strengthening economic growth and creating job opportunities, such as opening border crossings, the Trans-Saharan Highway, the Gas Pipeline, the Fiber-optic Line between Algeria and Nigeria, as well as the promotion of environmental trade through the validation of the African Continental Free Trade Area Convention in December 2019, water resources, agriculture and human subsidies.

(c) What are the migration-related policies that have been put in place since the adoption of the global pact in December 2018? Have you reformed the existing policies in line with the global pact? Please indicate the titles and dates of these policies. And what are the difficulties and obstacles you encountered during the process of setting up or reforming them? Have you adopted specific policies targeting migrants under the Covid-19 pandemic?

Despite its reservations to the Global Compact, Algeria is making considerable efforts to improve the entry, residence, displacement and exit mechanisms of migrants legally residing in the country, within the framework of compliance with the legislations and regulations in force in this area. In line with national and international developments, through the granting of multiple facilitations for foreign nationals wishing to enter, reside or move within the country legally, including:

- Putting in place an appropriate regulatory framework in 2019, that enables foreigners who present themselves at border crossings without a consular visa from benefiting of a 'Regularization visa', especially for foreigners coming from countries that do not have Algerian diplomatic or consular representatives, in humanitarian situations ... (For more information, please visit the official electronic website of the Ministry of Interior and Local Government and Urban Development).

- The establishment of a regulatory framework in 2019 that sets out the conditions and modalities of the extension of the visa or residence on the national territory for the benefit of foreigners for humanitarian and family reasons, or urgent and unexpected professional reasons, especially in cases of force majeure.

- The possibility of benefiting the foreigner who wishes to confirm his actual, usual and permanent residence on the resident card, valid for a period of two years (2).

- The possibility of benefiting the foreigner who has resided in Algeria permanently and legally for seven (7) years of a resident card valid for ten (10) years.

- The movement of a foreigner residing in the country in a regulatory manner freely within the framework of respecting the laws of the republic.

Algeria has taken exceptional and humanitarian measures for foreign nationals and migrants following the decision to suspend all air and marine travels and the closure of land borders. As a regulatory framework has been put in place for these foreigners to benefit, regardless of their identity, from the extension of their visa or residence or the automatic extension of their own foreign resident cards with the exemption from paying fees on this procedure and to consider them in a legal residency status until the situation goes back to normal. Furthermore, working foreign nationals have also benefited - as well as Algerian citizens - from paid exceptional leave (about 50% of users) while favoring pregnant women who are in charge of raising their children, besides people with chronic diseases and those suffering from health vulnerability. As well as enabling migrants from having access to free treatment in Algerian health institutions. Algeria has also provided opportunities to transfer foreign nationals who are stranded in Algeria to their country of origin. In addition to the programming of three voluntary repatriation operations of illegal migrants in collaboration with the International Organization for Migration.

(d) Can you provide more information on policies and/or provisions that you have put in place or incorporated into a specific category of migrants such as migrant workers, migrant children, and migrants who have not obtained identification papers?

Children, women, and migrants receive great attention from the public authorities, as health and social care is provided from multidisciplinary teams. Furthermore, free health services are provided for all migrants without the need to request a document proving their identity or legal status. As more than one hundred thousand (100,000) illegal migrants have benefited so far from public health services; moreover, vaccination campaigns were also carried out for their children.

(e) Did you have to adopt new policies or provisions as a result of migration dynamics or the relevant policies or provisions at the regional level?

Algeria has taken into account a number of measures relating to the flow of illegal migrants, including coordination and consultation with the neighboring countries to control the flow of migrants, the opening of border crossings to organize the movement of migrants, goods and merchandise, in addition to monitoring and updating applicable laws on this matter.

(f) Have you adopted any institutional reforms in response to the Global Compact (Have you created new institutions or mechanisms, or restructured the already existing institutions or mechanisms? and have you made any changes in work procedures?)

(g) Are there any related strategies, frameworks and implementation plans at the regional, sub-regional and inter-regional level? How did you contribute to their implementation? and what are the gaps and key challenges you have faced during the process of implementation?
It was agreed at the joint committees with the neighboring countries on the organization of periodic meetings between the Algerian “Walis” of the border provinces with their counterparts in Niger and Mali.

This neighborhood mechanism will help assess bilateral decisions and actions on issues and matters of mutual interest to both countries, including the issue of illegal immigration.

\[ a) \] Did your government set a plan for the implementation of the Global Compact? And what is the state of the implementation of the Global Compact’s 23 goals?

In addition to Algeria's reservations, our country's policies are consistent with some of the objectives of this charter, including international cooperation against migrant smuggling networks, as well as the creation of a national committee to prevent and fight human trafficking.

Meetings were held as part of the Inter-Ministerial Committee action, responsible for the study and monitoring of the immigration file, with the aim of studying the Global Charter objectives.

\[ b) \] What are the steps that have been taken by the government to integrate the Global Compact guiding principles into the framework of the immigration government and in the Global Compact implementation plans?

Our country faces various challenges including: organized cross-border crime, terrorism, human trafficking, drugs, illegal gold mining, population growth in neighboring countries, climate change and contagious diseases, especially under the influx of large numbers of migrants that would threaten safety and public health, as well as converting Algeria into a destination country for illegal migrants instead of a transit region.

(illegible): and especially those addressed to migrants that are most at risk. The information should be based on statistical and qualitative data where appropriate.

Algeria mobilizes significant human, financial and material resources with the aim of sponsoring illegal migrants by providing them with free health and social services (More than one hundred thousand illegal migrant (100,000) have benefited from public health services. As vaccination operations have been carried out for their children).

Bilateral cooperation between Algeria and Niger has also provided assistance to more than forty thousand (40,000) suffering Nigerian migrants, including many women and children who have been sent back to their countries of origin with Algeria's own means, in conditions that preserve their human dignity.

(a) How do you mobilize the means of implementation to ensure the achievement of the Global Compact’s goals (such as allocating budgets, build partnerships, data collection and capacity building)?

An estimated annual budget of 1 billion Algerian dinars has been allocated to the Ministry of the Interior, local authorities and urban development budget to take care of migrants (residence, catering...)

(b) What difficulties did you encounter in mobilizing the means of implementation?

(c) What are the additional resources you need? and do you have a plan to mobilize them?

The resources currently available consist of the funding under the state budget to take care of illegal migrants. The International Organization for Migration also supports the voluntary repatriation of illegal migrants, in the hope of continuing this support in the future.
